

State-feedback actor interface for full-action HPT control

The accepted policies are state-feedback trajectories: every control step maps current state to a new action.